6 Night 7 Day - Itinerary - Phuket Islands

Day 1 - Phuket to Phang Nga Bay

The Yacht Haven Marina is a 15 minute drive from Phuket International Airport and you will be arriving on board Schooner Dallinghoo in the afternoon.

After a short familiarization and safety briefing, your first day will bring you east or north towards the splendour of Phang Nga Bay. The dramatic high-rising limestone cliffs provide a stunning start to your charter holiday before you pass James Bond Island and Koh Panyee.

James Bond Island was made famous by appearing in the James Bond film, The Man with the Golden Gun. We suggest that you visit this at the start or end of the day in high season, since many speedboats from Phuket or the mainland will bring tourists there in the middle of the day.

Koh Panyee is a fisherman's village built on stilts, and underneath a giant rock face. This is a fascinating place to have lunch and buy local handicrafts.

Day 2 - Exploring Phang Nga Bay

Day 2 will bring you to the north of Phang Nga Bay where you will find hundreds of small islands, caves, bays and inlets, ideal for exploring by kayak or small dinghy. In fact, many of the best places to visit can only be reached this way.

Some of the most spectacular caves can be found on Koh Hong, and they are best explored when the tide is low. Sail slowly past the island of Khao Khien and see the ancient paintings of boats and animals on the rock walls.

Day 3 - Phang Nga Bay to Krabi

Heading south, the third day of your charter will bring you towards Krabi and the beach at Ao Nang Bay. Many resorts, shops, restaurants and nightlife spots line the shores along this bay. Even more secluded just to the south is the world famous Railay Beach, protected from road access by rock walls either side.

More kayaking to be done, or even a little rock climbing? And, unlike the waters in the very north of Phang Nga Bay, the waters here are further south and offer very good diving and snorkelling opportunities.

Day 4 - Krabi to Koh Lanta

If you can drag yourself away from the stunning Railay Beach, head south to the 70 small islands surrounding Koh Lanta. This area offers an abundance of white sandy beaches, with stunning forested coastlines, and loads of underwater marine life to explore.

Lanta is far away from the main towns of Phuket and Krabi, and offers a far more peaceful version of Thailand. In fact, so peaceful that 1 day might not be enough here!

Day 5 - Koh Lanta to Phi Phi Islands

Spectacular cliffs rising vertically out of the clear blue sea, idyllic tropical beaches, and lagoons surrounded by rock walls, have made Phi Phi Island famous all over the world. This was the location for The Beach, starring Leonardo Di Caprio.

There is an abundance of snorkelling and diving opportunities around the islands, many of which are uninhabited. Also, many of the cliffs are scalable, and the views of the sunset from above are truly amazing. There is also a range of top class restaurants to choose from, and a very active nightlife scene.

Day 6 - Phi Phi Islands to the Koh

West of Phi Phi is the island of Koh Yao Yai, It's characterized by sandy shores, mangroves, rubber plantations and fishing villages. Beaches include Loh Paret and Loh Jark. An ideal place for some exploring ashore or just to spend the final day chilling out on board.

Day 7 - Back to Phuket

Heading north back to the main island of Phuket, after a leisurely breakfast on board Dallinghoo will sail the short distance to your disembarkation location on Phuket.
